BATTERY MEN ARE DISCHARGED

Horrible Fate Is Escaped by Them For Various Reasons.

SHORTAGES ARE RUMORED

OFFICIAL DENIALS OF CRIMES ARE MADE.

Fifteen members of the First battery, field artillery, N. G. U., came close to death and possible mutilation yesterday. The men are:

of Colonel Joseph Geoghegan, acting adjutant general, a few days ago and was acted upon Thursday by general, order No. 24, which became public yes-The order reads:

"In accordance with paragraph 87, article 18, regulations National Guard of Utah, the following members of First battery, field artillery, are hereby discharged for the good of the service for having violated the twenty-second article of war. They will immediately turn over to the commanding officer, First battery, field artillery, all proports in their aggregation. erty in their possession."

The twenty-second article of war

"Any officer or soldier who begins Any omner of solder who begins, excites, causes or joins in any mutiny, or sedition, in any troop, battery, company, party, post, detachment or guard, shall suffer death, or such other punishment as a courtmartial may direct."

Could They Be Calm?

The young men probably escaped the extreme penalty through the fact that no courtmartial met to consider their case. The ninety-sixth article makes a courtmartial necessary to the infliction of the death penalty. The eightyseventh article of war may have made it impossible to convene a courtmartial under existing conditions. This article to behave with decency and calmness." Nobody will deny that officers of the guard behave decently under all cir-cumstances, but it would probably be difficult to keep them calm these days. is understood the adjutant gen eral's office takes the view that this or-der discharges the men named without further action. Some of the men incolved, however, insist that individual discharges must be issued to them be-fore they may be considered as out of the guard, and they also contend that it will be impossible to give them dishonorable discharges, because their cases were not disposed of by courtmartial. In support of this contention they cite section 1453, revised statutes, which reads:

'Dishonorable discharges or such dis charges as forbid re-enlistment shall be given only in accordance with sentences of courtmartial. Each soldier discharged shall be furnished with a certificate of such discharge which shall clearly state the reason therefor."

Section 1452 revised statutes is idenection 1453, revised statutes, is identical with paragraph 87, article 18, regulations national guard of Utah. The specific reason in this case is given in paragraph 8 of section 1453, which provides that enlisted men may be dis-charged "whenever, in the opinion of the commander-in-chief, the interest of the service would thereby be pro

Men who are included in the order Men who are included in the order are again citing precedents in support of their position. They refer to the fact that the Utah artillery, while duty in the Philippines, and other volunteer organizations formed in Utah in 1898, framed and forwarded petitions asking that they be mustered out and that the signers of these petitions were not subjected to drastic criticism nor stigmatized in any way for their action.

Many Tales of Shortage.

Stories of a tremendous shortage in the equipment accounts of officers of the National Guard have been in civillation during the past few days, some of the estimates placing the loss to the of the estimates placing the loss to the state and government as high as $35,000. The matter has been vaguely hinted at by members of both factions of the guard several times since the present trouble began, but it was not until yesterday that the stories began to assume a definite form

It is said that the losses do not imyesterday. The men are:
Quartermaster Sergeant T. J. Baker,
Sergeants William J. Grow, C. H. Spencer, jr., Corporals A. J. Hoffman, jr.,

Hassard.

All are signers of the petition asking that they be mustered out of the service of the state. The order, after several days' delay, reached the office of Colonel Joseph Geoghegan, acting adjutant general, a few days ago and in securing property returns from offi-cers is said to have made the condition

No Crime Is Charged.

Colonel Joseph Geoghegan, acting adjutant general, when asked about the stories at first declined to say anything. When pressed, he said that in the past some difficulty had been experienced in getting respective. some difficulty had been experienced in getting property returns from former members of the guard, but he said he did not wish to be understood as making an accusation against anyone. Colonel Geoghegan made it clear that he did not believe the matter was a serious one and intimated that sensational stories in connection with the affair were. In his opinion, inspired with a were, in his opinion, inspired with a view to injuring the standing of the military organization of the state.

General Charles S. Burton, former adjutant general, entertains similar

You may say for me that stories of this character are without foundation in fact," he said last night. "The loss, if there is any, is inconsiderable. Statements that it runs into thousands of dollars are absurd, but if they were true the state would not suffer because every officer of the guard who is in charge of state property is required to give a surety bond. In the past I have had occasion to go into this question thoroughly and I have secured from the attorney general an opinion to the effect that such bonds are continuing, so that the sureties can be held respective. so that the sureties can be held responsible for any shortage, no matter whe it is discovered

Inventories Require Work. "We always had trouble in getting property returns from the officers— every national guard has the same difficulty. National guard officers are not schooled like the regulars and it is almost impossible to get them to give these matters the attention they deserve. Sometimes we had to keep the these matters the attention they de-serve. Sometimes we had to keep after an officer for months before we could get his return. It requires considerable work to prepare an inventory of property and the officers frequently could not spare the time to get them up. "But sensational stories of this char-acter are baseless. Certainly, no short-age such as you mention existed prior to the first of the year and I feel certain no such losses have taken place since that time. As a matter of fact, I believe several of the officers have in their charge more property than they have receipted for and I believe all of them can give a proper accounting for
